

NEWARK REC' PLAN COST SET AT $4 IN AVERAGE HOME

Recreation for Newark's youngsters will cost the average homeowner less than $4 a year.

This was the statement today of William Hildebrand, chairman of a committee to form a tax-supported recreation district in an election in Newark December 30.

Hildebrand stressed if the election is successful, the district can be in operation next summer. He estimated it will cost no more than 19 cents per $100 valuation, or about $3.80 a year for the average home.

Illustrating the need for such a district, Hildebrand said when the Washington Township Sheriff's substation opened 18 months ago, average juvenile-crime reports were only two per month. Now, he said, the office receives more than 40 per month, many from the Newark area.

Under the proposal, supervised recreation at the school and Youth Center will take place after school and on Saturdays, and all day during the summer. A superintendent and part-time employees would be hired by the district's trustees.

Hildebrand's committee announced anyone wishing to run for one of the three unpaid trustee jobs, must file a petition signed by ten registered voters with the Board of Supervisors by December 20. Carl Hersey and Mrs. Earl Richmond already are reported seeking endorsements for their candidacy.

Endorsing the plan, Juvenile Judge A. T. Shine declared:

"We commend any efforts to bring better living conditions to a community."

Election campaign committee members decided to divide the proposed district, which follows Newark School District boundaries, into six sections for their drive. In charge of the areas are Mmes. J. C. Kennedy, E. M. Carroll, Ernest Phippen, Earl Willburn, George Latham and Harold Wright.

An auto caravan will tour the town on December 29, and printed brochures and other explanatory leaflets will be distributed, as prepared by Mrs. David Rice and Jack MacGregor.

GROWNUPS LEARN TOO . . . Pre-kindergarten youngsters are taught to get along with their playmates at the Child Development Center, pictured in operation above at the Centerville Presbyterian Church. But parents learn too—mothers come to help and find out their youngster's problems are nothing unusual, and how to solve them. Fathers have been helpful, making furniture for the play-school classrooms. Shown here at left is Mrs. Shirley Greenberg, director of the center, which is sponsored by the local public school system. Pupils, left to right, are: Tommy Marshall, 4, Niles; Eno Huhtala, 4, Centerville; Dean Witcraft, 4, Newark; Greta Huhtala, 2½, Centerville; Marian Hayward, 3, Newark; Linda Carmody, 3, Centerville; and Ricki Loze, 4, Centerville. CHOIRS TO LEAD NILES YULE FETE

A chorus of more than 100 voices will figure in the inaugural Niles Christmas Festival, scheduled for presentation December 22.

Choirs from the Corpus Christi Catholic and Niles Congregational, St. James' Episcopal and several other churches will sing traditional carols at the open-air performance, according to Caesar Di-Gilio, chairman of the group on choral arrangements of the Niles Merchants' Committee, which is sponsoring the program.

Directing the singing will be Harold Melling, choirmaster of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Oakland, who has consented to act as co-ordinator for the choir. Melling will rehearse his groups tonight at 8 o'clock in the Niles Congregational Church.

Folkdancing, directed by Mrs. Gertrude Enos, will feature street exhibitions by several Township folk-dance clubs.

Merchants are decorating their windows in Yuletide hues for the program.

The festival, first of its kind attempted here, will start at 7 p.m. opposite the Southern Pacific freight depot on First Street, according to E. C. Parks, chairman of the committee.

The depot itself will be decorated in Christmas greens, with a backdrop depicting the Nativity. Walter Sletten and Al Lopes head the group on decoration.

On Tuesday afternoon, Niles will hold its traditional free Kid's Show at the Niles Theater. At the same time, a kid's show will be presented at the Centerville Theater by the local Lions Club.

Parks stressed that if it rains on the 22d, the festival will be postponed until the following night; if it rains then as well, it will be transferred to the local school auditorium.

ALVARADO CHAMBER DINNER DECEMBER 18

Alvarado's Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual dinner December 18.

Zoning was discussed at their regular meeting yesterday.

COUNTYWIDE COMMITTEE WILL HANDLE CENTENNIAL

The Centerville Chamber of Commerce voted Monday to back the proposed Alameda County Centennial next year.

The action, taken on motion of Judge Allen G. Norris, came after an explanation of the project by Col. N. W. Armstrong, promotion secretary for the County Supervisors.

Armstrong said the celebration will be handled "by an executive committee" composed of representatives from every section of the county. He announced the Grand Parlor of

NILES CHAMBER TELLS SHERIFF IT DIDN'T BUCK HIM ON DANCEHALL

The Niles Chamber of Commerce officially assured Sheriff H. P. Gleason on Tuesday that it had not opposed his recommendation to close a hillbilly dance hall here.

"I understand the supervisors were told the merchants of Niles wanted Rollerhaven opened," President Peter Juhl asserted to Sheriff's Capt. Richard E. Condon, who was invited to represent Gleason at a luncheon meeting of the civic organization.

"The true picture was not presented," Juhl declared. "Only a small portion of the businessmen of Niles signed the petition to reopen the place."

Over Gleason's recommendation, the supervisors last week voted, 3-2, to re-issue a permit to Rollerhaven, despite Gleason's records which showed more than 40 arrests of juveniles in or about the premises for drinking since last March.

Condon produced the records, showing three arrests in March, seven in April, two in May, seven in June, five in July 12 in September, and six on the night of October 6, at which point Condon said he wrote Gleason asking for the dance-permit to be lifted.

"This doesn't count drunken adults, or those arrested for fighting," Condon declared. "What we're trying to do here is stop juvenile delinquency." Speaking of Rollerhaven, he declared:

"Never in the 16 years I've worked in this end of the county have we picked up so many juveniles for drinking in one place in such a short length of time."

The officer said his deputies will be watchful but will not exert any unusual "pressure" on Rollerhaven now its permit is restored.

The case aroused widespread interest when Cottonseed Clark, whose bands play in the hall on week-ends, retained Assemblyman Richard Dolwig as his attorney. Gleason charged he would have been upheld had it not been for Dolwig's entry into the case.

At the supervisors' hearing, a petition signed by 32 "resident taxpayers of Washington Township" said the signers "believed the action of the sheriff's office is unnecessary."

Condon stressed that fights and juvenile problems at the establishment "tied up Washington Township's only two patrol cars from two to four hours every Saturday, leaving the rest of the Township without protection."

Dr. T. C. Wilson charged "there's a lot of politics behind this (action of the supervisors) and we ought to come out and tell the people how we stand on it."

Official censure was not delivered however. Members indicated they did not want to embarrass Condon. At least one resolution on the issue is in the mill for next week, it was learned.

Supervisor Chairman Harry Bartel had forced the hearing which resulted in the reversal. An Oakland newspaper pointed out that Bartel declared at the time:

"We want to use judgment in handling matters with (assemblymen like Dolwig)."

Said the newspaper in a signed column:

"Harry has an extremely important piece of legislation drafted for presentation to the Assembly next year. It is a proposal which would enable county supervisors to retire on half pay at 65 after 16 years of service."

HOME IS SAILOR YEAH! HOMESICK!

Sailor Eugene Pines was so glad to be on dry land again he never stopped to look back.

This was Pines' story on Tuesday to Judge E. A. Quaresma, before whom he appeared on charges of speeding.

"I just got into Oakland from the Pacific on my ship," Pines explained to the judge. "I was in a hurry to get home and see my folks and my girl."

Reports said officers chased the homesick seafarer at 60 miles an hour through Irvington.

Judge Quaresma imposed a $15 fine.

ASK 25c RAISE IN PHONE RATE HERE

Residential one-party phone rates in local communities and much of California will rise 25 cents a month if an increase requested this week by the Pacific Telephone Company is approved.

The request was made by the company to the State Public Utilities Commission.

Under the proposal, residential rates in Niles would be, for instance:

	Now	Asked
1-party	$4.55	$4.80
2-party	3.75	3.80
4-party	3.20	3.20

For business phones, the rate on one-party lines would rise here from $7.75 per month to $8.

For the State as a whole, the proposed increase figures out to an average of 3½ cents per telephone a day.

"Higher rates are necessary because of inflation as reflected in higher costs of materials and supplies, increased taxes and higher wage costs," S. D. Smith, manager of the telephone company's Hayward office, said.

"General price levels have increased 90 per cent since the 1935-39 period established by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics as 'normal.' During the same period California intra-state telephone rates increased on the average of only 24 per cent including some rate reductions."

Excluded from the request are Decoto and Alvarado.

Smith pointed out that the company's request also carries a proposed reduction in the message-unit rate for long-distance calls from the present 4.4 cents to 4 cents.

PRESTON FUGITIVES ARRESTED HERE

Two fugitives from Preston Reformatory, Richard Pell, 16, of Oakland, and Wyatt Perkins, 16, of Ukiah, were apprehended here Wednesday when they assertedly stole clothing from the home of a Niles girl friend.

In company with Pell's brother, David, 20, all were charged with burglary of the home, on Sycamore Street in Niles. The youths reportedly left the reformatory on Tuesday and came here to see the girl.

Moughon Found Guilty

Ray Moughon, 46, Niles steelworker, was convicted this week on four counts of felony drunk driving and four counts of misdemeanor manslaughter.

A jury in Oakland superior court found Moughon responsible for the deaths of four members of a San Jose family here June 15 during a head-on crash north of the Southern Pacific underpass.

He faces up to 20 years in the penitentiary and for years in the county jail. Judge C. W. Snook set December 31 for sentencing.

Move Opens Up Large Area for Development

In a move which opens up acreage south of Newark for large-scale industrial and residential development, the Southern Pacific Railroad Wednesday night authorized the Union Sanitary District to extend its sewer mains 6900 feet into SP lands at SP expense.

The area involved includes 256 acres of industrial land purchased last summer by the SP south of Central Avenue between its tracks and Cherry Road.

Cost of projecting 12-inch sanitary mains into the area, now unserved by sewers, was estimated by District Engineer Harry Goodridge at more than $35,000.

Since construction of the main Hetch-Hetchy aqueduct, the land has been blocked from sewer service, since there was no flowage across the aqueduct.

However, the SP has agreed to bear the expense of (1) running the mains south on Laurel Avenue from the district's disposal plant, (2) east along Perrin Avenue to Central, (3) along Central, (4) thence south through the railroad's industrial sites.

The announcement climaxed several weeks of negotiations between the railroad and district directors. It was made by District Chairman George Coit after a vote of his directors Wednesday night.

The SP asked the USD to prepare plans and perform the work necessary to get the sewers operating. To this, the directors agreed and told Goodridge to commence work at once.

First plant in the area is the $2,500,000 Orangeburg Pipe factory, located on a 20-acre site in the extreme northern corner of the SP land.

Negotiations are under way by SP to bring other factories to its Newark land. All will require sanitary disposal facilities, such as will be supplied by the new main.

NILES ZONE PLEA HEARD BY COUNTY

Zoning against further industry between Niles and Decoto is on the County Planning Commission agenda in January, following a meeting here Wednesday between commission staff members, residents of Adobe Acres, and farmers in the area.

If successful, the move would bar further industries from an area bounded by Decoto, Rock Avenue, the Southern Pacific tracks and Alameda Creek.

John Jay Thomas, commission secretary, said another session will be called at Niles School January 5 to let industrial-site owners have their say. Twenty-five persons showed up here Wednesday to meet with Thomas.

The homeowners and ranchers have asked the region be zoned residential or residential-agricultural. Thomas said the commission will hear pros and cons January 14 and February 11.

New TV Store in Niles

A new television-radio sales and service store is slated to open tomorrow in Niles.

CHECKS BOGUS, SO IS THE 'BROTHER'

His claims of official connections ignored, George W. Moore, 31, of 113 Mt. Vernon Street, Centerville, was in court this week charged with passing $85 worth of bad checks here.

Moore is accused of signing the worthless checks during the past month in three local taverns. Proprietor Tony Mezza of Niles reported Moore assured him he was the brother of Constable Robert Moore of Centerville. The two are not related.

The unemployed steelworker appeared Tuesday before Judge E. A. Quaresma on felony counts and was ordered to appear again December 16.

DRAINAGE TOPIC

Drainage will be discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, according to President Ken Foster. Supervisor Chester Stanley is to be present at the 8 p.m. session in the Youth Center.

NEWARK SCHOOL SITE WORK STARTS

Contract for the site development of Newark Grammar School has been let to Watkins and Sybold of San Anselmo, and work will start this week, according to Jack MacGregor, district superintendent.

In front of the school on Cherry Avenue will be lawns with sprinkler system, trees and shrubbery, and flag pole. The garage will have a reinforced concrete floor, and the school bus entrance to the school proper will be paved. In the area bounded by Thornton and Cherry will be an off-street parking lot, enclosed by a three-foot fence. It will be black-topped and landscaped with shrubs, and will be entered from the driveway on Cherry Avenue. Service trucks will enter the service area from the driveway, which will be completely fenced from all vehicles.

In the primary play area at the back of the school will be four swings, slide, sand box, horizontal ladder, swinging rings, parallel bars, horizontal bars, and climbing tower. The intermediate area will have four basketball courts, base-ball back stops, horizontal ladder and giant stride, tether-ball, marble area, traveling rings, parallel bars, horizontal bars, and horizontal ladder. There will be shavings making a soft area under all the equipment.

For the upper grades there will be two standard basketball courts, handball court, three tether-ball courts, and one new back stop to be used by the girls for baseball. This is in addition to the present baseball field. Fencing of the school property will be completed, including a 12-foot fence on the street side of the basketball courts.

The project should take about three months to complete, depending on weather conditions, MacGregor said.

The new cafeteria serves some 325 children with hot lunches each day. Another 100 children bring bag lunches. An area just outside the cafeteria will provide these children with a place to eat outdoors on nice days, on redwood tables with seats attached.

NO ARREARS FOR SEWER DEBTORS

Canyon Heights and Ellsworth Orchard residents will escape penalties for delinquent sewer assessments they never knew about.

Official word of this fact came today from Eugene K. Sturgis, attorney for holders of the bonds on which the assessments were to have been paid.

However Sturgis warned the delinquencies must be paid up by next Wednesday, December 17.

Sturgis notified County Treasurer Roger Coit that his bondholders agree that on any coupons paid to Coit's office by December 17 "the bondholders will waive the penalties on delinquent coupons, provided that the property-owner also pays at the same time the coupon which is delinquent January 2, 1953."

The homeowners had understood two years ago that Coit would bill them for the unpaid balance due on installation of the sewers. However due to a mixup between the treasurer and the attorney, no bills were presented. The first that the homeowners knew of it, they received bills notifying them that they were delinquent in payments, and that they were being charged 1 per cent per month for their arrears.

Sturgis has promised that Coit will render bills semi-annually in the future.

The attorney stressed that the amount shown on the notices "does not include penalties, and should be paid as shown" before December 17.

Newly installed officers are as follows: Clark Redeker, master; Karl Nordvik, senior warden; Bernard Lawlor, junior warden; Edwin A. Richmond (P.M.), treasurer; H. M. Kibby (P.M.), secretary; Arthur T. Biddle (P.M.), chaplain; Charles Cogswell, senior deacon; Robert Walstra, junior deacon; Jacob Koelsch, senior steward; Herman Schroder, junior steward; William H. No Coroner Switch

Rotation of local deputy coroner's jobs among noticians, normally handled at the first of the year, will be postponed six months, Coroner Bernard Bungarz told a meeting of funeral parlor operators here last week.

Bungarz said this is because the death of former Coroner M. L. Emerson upset budget schedules, and thus he will not be able to make the normal switch until July.

This means Chapel of the Palms in Centerville will continue as deputy coroner until that date, Bungarz said.

MEDEIROS PREXY OF MISSION C. C.

Herman Medeiros has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce at Mission San Jose, succeeding M. J. Overacker Jr.

Other new officers are Mrs. Lois Bottenberg, vice-president; and Jacob Koelsch, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Overacker, Roy Dean, John Amaral, Elmo Andrade, Jack Pereira and Maurice Marks. Koelsch was presented with a pen and pencil set in appreciation of his services for the past two years.

The chamber voted to request a zoning map for the Mission San Jose area to be studied locally prior to a meeting with representatives of the Alameda County Planning Commission.

Answer to this week's Guess Who? Harry Weber, Centerville PG&E executive.

FARM EXCHANGE STUDENT PROGRAM

California's young rural citizens between 20 and 30 will again have the opportunity to apply for consideration as International Farm Youth Exchanges. Home Advisor Gladys L. Boone, of the University of California, says that applications for departure in the summer of 1953 will be accepted until December 15.

The International Farm Youth Exchange, Miss Boone explains, is a project for young people from farms in the United States to live and work on farms in other countries and for farm youth from these countries to come here and observe rural life.

Chief qualifications for an IFYE applicant is that he or she should have been raised on a farm and know its life and work. Since the delegates also act as ambassadors of good will from the United States, IFYE's must be of mature personality and high school graduates. If they are selected to go to a non-English speaking country, they must be willing to learn the language of their host country.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program has enabled some 280 young men and women from the United States to visit 35 countries all over the free world. At the same time, 215 young people from other countries have visited the United States in exchange.

Information is available in the Agricultural Extension Service office, Hayward post office basement.

SCAN HOSPITAL PLAN, DOCS ASKED

Township doctors are urged to attend a meeting of the Washington Township Hospital District directors next Tuesday so their ideas about the new $1,250,000 hospital can be incorporated in final blueprints.

This invitation came today from L. S. Whitaker, chairman of the district, which on November 4 received a 4-1 vote to build the hospital.

Whitaker asked the doctors to meet with his architects, Larue Sorenson and Mark Ellsworth, of Niles, to scan preliminary plans, and to offer suggestions "before the plans go into the final stage."

"We hope the architects will have the plans and specifications ready to be let for bid by May," Whitaker asserted.

The hospital directors meet at 8 p.m. in the county building.

DECISION IN ASIA

Eisenhower's trip to Korea brings into sharp focus a war our comfortable America has forgotten. How convenient it is to forget that since the Russians tossed out their peace feeler 17 months ago, we have lost 10,000 dead, four times that many seriously wounded! That we have spent billions upon billions on the K-War. That from a position where we had the battered and reeling Communists at our mercy, we now find ourselves awaiting a savage assault from a reinforced enemy.

Lulled by the approach of the traditional holidays, how many of us remember that the lullaby is an important part of the Communist offensive? It worked when Malik cried "peace" in June, 1951. That was when only splintered Red battalions lay between Ridgeway's troops and the Yalu. What siren song stayed the avenging word?

The song was made up of both harmony and plaintive melody. Both combined to render futile our year of gallant battle in Korea, our hopes for any effective settlement. The harmony was composed by the U.S. State Department. Its theme: don't irritate the Russians, don't goad them into spreading the war, don't do anything that will alienate our allies.

The melody came from our NATO friends, the British and French. It was intertwined with the harmony. It was bred of a fear that the Russians might attack if provoked in Korea, if Manchuria was bombed. The melody inspired and dominated the harmony. The two became indistinguishable. They paralyzed our initiative in Korea, set the tune to suit the Reds.

This became possible only because Washington refused to admit Korea is a military problem, not a diplomatic one. Strength or weakness there can be gauged only from a military standpoint. The Reds will sue for peace or play it tough only as the military situation becomes hard or easy for them. What's more, our Christian forbearance in Korea isn't going to make Russia a bit easier on France or Britain if the Kremlin decides it's time to smack France or Britain.

There's one way out of Korea; the all-out way. We have the weapons at hand to do the job: tactical atom bombs, atomic artillery shells, to clear the way for our armor and airborne troops. Manchuria's airfields and military bases must be bombed, atomically, beyond the power to retaliate. Red China's coast must be blockaded, her rail transport to Korea and Indo-China ripped asunder by our war planes. This is not an easy decision, because it will mean more casualties for us at the start. But the GI's themselves prefer it to slow bleeding without an end in sight. How many Americans must die, how much treasure must we pour down the rat-hole before we decide?

The risk of spreading the war is not an issue. The Russians will spread it whenever they wish, without waiting for a move from us. The thing is to use our arms to force a peace out of the Reds, one that permits us to stop our ruinous and unprofitable war in that unhappy land.

Eisenhower, experienced in war and in global strategy, must see this already. May his Korean visit produce positive policy to arm his resolution!

THE BLANK CHECK

Would you sign a blank check that could turn over your bank account to someone you didn't know for some purpose you didn't know about? Of course not. Still, many people will sign petitions which lend support to something they know nothing about.

A few weeks back, petitions against a gravel pit were circulated. Then others favoring the pit went around. Many of the same names were found on both!

Later, a petition was circulated saying Sheriff Gleason's move to close a dancehall here was "unnecessary." How many of the signers troubled to inform themselves that 42 juvenile arrests had been made there since March? Or that both our patrol cars were tied up there by fights on Saturday night, leaving the rest of the Township unprotected? Or that the place was driving the neighbors nuts?

Well, the names on that petition became part of a peculiar political football game in the Board of Supervisors. Those supervisors who wanted the dancehall open seized on the petition as an expression of public opinion backing the decision they intended to make. The sheriff was elbowed aside in favor of an assemblyman who appeared for the man who wanted the hall open for personal profit.

Petitions are a dime a dozen. But thoughtless signatures on a petition cheapen, and ultimately bankrupt a community's reputation for good judgment. Like a blank check, petitions should never be signed until the signer knows all the facts.

READERS WRITE US

Editor:

May I take this opportunity to express my personal appreciation for your fine work in connection with our United Crusade campaign.

Our campaign has been most successful, and all of us, in the volunteer organization and at campaign headquarters, recognize the outstanding contribution made by the Township Register in publicizing the United Crusade. This was particularly important in our first campaign year.

The United Crusade realized a 21 per cent increase in funds over last year's independent campaigns by the six major Crusade causes. This is an outstanding record which we hope to surpass during the remaining days of the year. We are most grateful for your unflinching cooperation.

Sincerely,
EDWARD H. SIEMS
Crusade Chairman.

Christmas Party

The East Bay Past Commanders Club of "The Macabees" is having its annual banquet and Christmas party at "Helnick's" in Oakland Thursday evening, December 18.

Members from Niles attending will be Mrs. Catherine Parry, Mrs. Frank Fields and Mrs. Nora Rogers.

MYSTERY MAN WAS EXPERT ON WINES

How many of you recognized last week's mystery man as genial Karl Kaiser of Niles, veteran dairyman, steelworker and insurance agent? This week's puzzle ought to be easy for those who know their Township. If you don't guess after reading the clues, seek elsewhere in the Register and ye shall find.

He was born in Livermore in 1889. His parents were vineyardists, and he learned early how to handle grapes and wines.

When he left school, he went to work for the old Cresta Blanca Wine Co., then owned by C. J. Wetmore. Within a short time our youth rose to the position of master blender.

Wetmore knew the secrets of French wine-making, and he imparted them to our young mystery man. Rolling fine wines over his trained palate, cleansing his taste with a mouthful of dry bread, he made millions of bottles of famed vintages, reservoirs of campaign.

But in 1913, prohibition cast its first pall over California. Our man decided to change careers. He went to work for the PG&E as a lowly switchboard operator in the old powerhouse which still stands on the highway north of Mission San Jose.

Studying by night, he rose to a foreman's job in less than a year—something unheard of. He recalls the crude equipment of those days: circuit-breakers which controlled thousands of volts were merely washtubs full of oil.

One day one of them blew up in the Mission powerhouse. Neighbors joined the PG&E crews to battle the flames and saved the powerhouse, but not before power was cut off from the Santa Clara Valley and the Peninsula, for all hydro-electric "juice" then ran through the old brick station. It was abandoned in 1921, when the Newark switchyard was built.

Our mystery man moved his place of employment too. For years now, he has bossed the Southern Alameda County installations of one of the State's great industries. On July 1, 1954, he is scheduled to retire.

In his youth a great hunter and fisherman, he has had to be "on call" 24 hours a day for the past 39 years, he says, and it will be a relief to devote his efforts to hunting and fishing again.

With his wife, he says he wants "to spend the summers in Oregon on our ranch near McMinnville and our winters with our friends in California."

By a former wife, who died in 1947, he has a daughter and now he has two fine grandchildren.

No civic or social organization is complete without his presence. Most recently, he has been treasurer of the Township Chamber of Commerce.

PMA COMMITTEEMEN START FARM VISITS

PMA community committeemen began making farm-by-farm visits last week to sign up farmers in the 1953 Conservation Program, says Fred F. Lewis of Hayward, chairman of the Alameda County Production and Marketing Administration committee.

This year, for the first time, Chairman Lewis explains, PMA community committeemen will visit farmers in the county and work out with the farmer the most effective way in which ACP assistance can be used to meet the most serious conservation problems on each farm.

After the committeemen and the farmer have looked over conservation problems on the farm and reviewed farm plans which may have been developed for the farm with the help of the Soil Conservation Service, or other agency, they are in a position to determine the most needed conservation on the farm, Lewis said. The 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program provides that assistance is to be applied to the most needed conservation.

This direct use of ACP assistance, Chairman Lewis believes, will result in an increase in the more permanent type of conservation practices such as dams for livestock water, drainage ditches, planting permanent pastures, reorganizing irrigation systems by installing pipelines and sprinkler systems, etc.

As in the past, APC assistance will cover only a part of the cost of the conservation practices approved and the assistance provided by the program serves as a spark to start the conservation work on the farm.

Committeemen for Washington Township are: Manuel Abreu, chairman, Newark; Earl R. Wallace and Harold Faria, Niles; Manuel J. Maciel, Newark; and Albert S. Silveria, Irvington.

COUNTY ADOPTS PLUMBING RULES

Suburban Alameda County homebuilders must conform to a county plumbing code on homes started after January 2.

This was decided last week by the Board of Supervisors, which granted County Building Inspector Marcus Carlson three inspectors to enforce the code.

Two years ago the supervisors named a 5-man committee to draw up the code to regulate plumbing installations in the county's unincorporated areas. It had been asked both by architects and plumbing union officials.

Carlson assured the supervisors that inspection fees will cover the salaries of his inspectors.

J.A.C.L. News

A general meeting of the Southern Alameda County JACL at the Warm Springs Grammar School was climaxed when Kaz Shikano, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the 1953 candidates for office.

They include: president, James Fudenna; first vice-president, Kaz Shikano; second vice-president, Sumiko Kato; recording secretary, Hisako Yamanaka; corresponding secretary, Aki Kato; treasurer, Chuck Shikano; historian, Dorothy Kato; public relations, Setusko Umemoto; social chairman, June Handa; athletic manager, Tak Murakami; board of governors, Yasuto Kato, Kiyome Kitayama, Kiyoshi Kato (past presidents), Sam Yamanaka, Yataka Handa, Harold Fudenna, Hideo Katsumoto (two to be chosen from four.)

Nominations from the floor included Ray Kitayama, president; Kimi Murakami, recording secretary. Balloting will be by mail.

NILES SCHOOLMEN CONFER ON SITE

Trustees of the Niles Elementary School District will travel to Hayward this week to discuss plans for a second school with a state architect.

The announcement came today from Supt. E. Dixon Bristow. Bristow said the district hopes to get State bond money under the recently-passed Proposition 24 to erect a school east of Ellsworth Orchard on a site purchased several years ago.

The single elementary school in Niles is rapidly reaching the point where crowding is a major problem for both teachers and pupils, Bristow added.

The trustees and the superintendent will confer with Howard Rowe of the State Department of Education in an effort to determine how to obtain the money.

ALTA VISTA BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Shelton G. Posey, secretary-treasurer of the General South Baptist Convention of California, was guest speaker Sunday at the Alta Vista Baptist Church on the Niles-Hayward Highway. Dr. Shelton, who resides in Fresno, will return on February 15 to deliver a series of sermons.

The church Christmas party will be held Sunday, December 21, at 7 p.m.

LeRoy Brown Jr. of Centerville has been named wire editor of the Stanford Daily, campus publication.

SCAN HOSPITAL PLAN, DOCS ASKED

Township doctors are urged to attend a meeting of the Washington Township Hospital District directors next Tuesday so their ideas about the new $1,250,000 hospital can be incorporated in final blueprints.

This invitation came today from L. S. Whitaker, chairman of the district, which on November 4 received a 4-1 vote to build the hospital.

Whitaker asked the doctors to meet with his architects, Larue Sorenson and Mark Ellsworth, of Niles, to scan preliminary plans, and to offer suggestions "before the plans go into the final stage."

"We hope the architects will have the plans and specifications ready to be let for bid by May," Whitaker asserted.

The hospital directors meet at 8 p.m. in the county building.

DEFER ACTION ON IRVINGTON FLOODS

Commissioners of the Mission-Irvington Sanitary District discussed possible use of their district as a flood control agency this week but took no action on the proposal.

The idea was advanced last week by Jack Prouty, a water district commissioner, as a solution to winter run-offs which frequently flood Irvington's streets.

R. J. Wright, chairman of the sanitary commission, said today: "We talked about it, but we want to be more certain about the boundaries involved."

The district engineer, Harry Goodridge, has been instructed to prepare a report on possible approaches to the problem, including estimated costs. A precedent exists at Ora Loma, north of Hayward, where the local sanitary district has assumed with success the role of surface drainage by digging ditches financed by tax money.

Sugar Beets Finished

Holly Sugar Corporation's Alvarado mill finished slicing sugar beets on November 25.

The processing of molasses will continue for 30 more days.

Approximately 150,000 tons of beets were sliced this year which is slightly less than last year. The mill will produce about 450,-

Returning this week from the annual American Farm Bureau convention in Seattle were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Faria, RFD 297, Niles, and Miss Loretta Mae Faria.

HUSKIES TRY IT FOR SIZE, BOW TO DONS, 46-39, IN PRACTICE OPENER

By BOB HIRD

Washington High's Huskies opened their 1952 basketball season last Friday on an off-note when they lost to the Amador Dons 46-39, on the Don's court.

The Huskies' mentor, Clyde Voorhees, who was trying mostly for experience in the first encounter, let all the players on his varsity squad take the boards.

The starting unit couldn't get the range, and trailed 15-7 at the end of the first quarter.

Then Voorhees put his second unit in. Behind the sparkling offensive play of Frank Galvan, the Huskies then pulled to trail by only two points at half time, 24 to 22.

The third quarter found both clubs playing mostly a defensive game. Only 16 points were scored during the eight minutes, nine being for the Dons.

The Orange and Black's first string caught fire late in the fourth quarter and once were within three points of catching the Dons, but time ran out on them.

Galvan, who plays the forward spot, bucketed 10 points for the Huskies. Ken Whitaker, big 6-foot 2-inch center, spotted 17 for Pleasanton.

Tonight the Huskies face one of the top teams in the Bay Area as they play host to the Bellarmine quintet.

The Bells have averaged 70 points a game so far this season. They are paced by Forward Dick Venezia and Center Dick McNeil.

Tip-off is set for 7:30.

PUPS HOT, COLD; LOSE TO AMADOR

Able to make only 12 per cent of their field goal attempts, the Washington High B's dropped their first encounter of the season Friday to the Amador Don Bs, 29-26.

Coach Don Wolfe let all 16 of his players see action.

Missed field goals hurt the local lightweights badly. In the first quarter the Pups' starting five compiled only 3 points, all from the free-throw line.

The B's second unit played the second quarter and started things rolling, so that the Dons held only a 3-point advantage at the half, 14-11.

The Dons took advantage of the Washington third-string in the third period and built up a 24-16 lead just before the fourth quarter.

The starting five was then put in the game. They gave the Dons a scare. They out-scored the Pleasanton quintet 10-5, but the buzzer sounded with the Bs still trailing by three points.

Junior Mahusay was high for the locals with four points. Gerry Salac paced the Dons with nine digits.
